Toilet Training

An average family spends £400 per year on nappies and wipes. Each year, around 3 billion disposable nappies end up in landfill.

Toilet training is an important part of your child's development and is best started between 18 and 30 months.

It takes time, so use simple routines and lots of encouragement to help your child learn.

The ERIC website has lots of information to help you with this. This includes helpful advice about managing 'accidents', potty training when you are out and about and FAQs.

The Potty Training Guide

Look out for the Potty Training Guide we sent out for some top tips.

Don't forget to let us know if you are potty training your child. We will work in partnership with you to make sure we use a consistent approach.

Too Many Cuddly Toys?

We still need clean and cuddly soft toys for our tombolas. Please bring them to the office.

Come along and support us:
